

Question No.1

(a) Give definitions of the following with examples:

- (i) Clause
- (ii) Predicate
- (iii) Demonstrative Pronoun
- (iv) Conjunction
- (v) Adverb of Frequency

(b) Do as directed:

- (i) See (Give 2nd and 3rd forms)
- (ii) Fortune favours the brave. (Change into Negative)
- (iii) I wish he were my teacher. (Mood)
- (iv) The Urdu is a difficult language.
- (v) She goes for a walk.

Question No.2

(a) Change the Numbers:

- i. Fly ii. Bush iii. Memorandum iv. Chimney v. Pony

(b) Change the Genders:

- i. Stag ii. Fox iii. Poet iv. Hunter v. Emperor

(c) Transform into Abstract Nouns:

- i. Succeed ii. Judge iii. Act iv. See v. Honest

(d) Give Synonyms:

- i. Release ii. Bitter iii. Adore iv. Advance v. Repair

Question.No.3

(a) Put in Articles:

- i. It is _____ year since he reached here.
- ii. His son is _____ F.R.C.S and daughter _____ M.A
- iii. Do you mind closing _____ window?
- iv. He wants to see _____ Olympic Games.

(b) Insert Prepositions:

- i. She is indebted _____ her teachers.
- ii. He is really worthy _____ praise.
- iii. They were enveloped _____ dense fog.
- iv Our path is beset _____ difficulties.
- v. I prefer milk _____ tea.

(c) Use in the correct form of verbs:

- i. A rolling stone (gather) no moss.
- ii. He thanked me for what I (do).
- iii. He study English for six years.
- iv. The patient (die), before the doctor reached.
- v. I (send) him a letter last week.

(d) Give one word substitutes:

- i. That which cannot be cured.
- ii. A speech made without preparation
- iii. One who is weak or disabled?
- iv. That which cannot be heard.
- v. One who amuses in a circus

Question No.4(a) Change the Narration:

- i. He says, "I am writing you a letter"
- ii. She said to her mother, "I shall never meet him again."
- iii. She said, " How intelligent you are!"
- iv. I said to her, "Do you go for a walk daily?"
- v. I said to him, " Let us play cricket."

(b) Change the voice:

- i. The teacher has already taught his lesson.
- ii. Never tell a lie.
- iii. Why was he writing articles?
- iv. Cricket is being played by the boys.
- v. Somebody has put out the light.

Question No.5Choose the right options:

- i. The _____ of this hill is very steep. (Ascent, Assent)
- ii. He offered her a seat by the _____. (Aisle, Isle)
- iii. His voice was not _____ so I could not hear. (Audible, Edible)
- iv. The mechanic checked the _____ oil of my car. (Brake, Break)
- v. My farms produce _____ crops. (Cereal, Serial)
- vi. He remained in _____ for two months. (Coma, Comma)
- vii. Growth is a _____ process. (Continual, Continuous)
- viii. Faisal gave him a _____ to solve the riddle. (Cue, Queue)
- ix. The plane began to _____ at last. (Descend, Dissent)
- x. Calculator is a useful _____. (Device, Devise)

SECTION – BQuestion No.6

What is Précis? Give its Qualities.

Question No.7

Read the following passage and answer the questions given at the end:

Computer has revolutionized the modes of thinking and reasoning today. No other media can provide us information as speedily as a computer can through internet service. In the field of medicine, computers can diagnose the disease even before its occurrence. In education, information technology has contributed a lot. It has made every information accessible for a common man wherever he lives. Information technology has not only eased up our lives but also changed our trends. We have accepted its power but we should not lose our power over it. It is nothing without human skills. We should keep our doors open to welcome information technology but should not let it create huge gaps between human beings.

Questions:

- i) How can we be provided information speedily?
- ii) How do computers help the medical profession?
- iii) What should be our attitude towards information technology?
- iv) Make a precis of the passage and give it a suitable title.

Question No.8

Write an essay (250-300) words on ONE of the following topics:

- i. The Role of Bank
- ii. Inflation
- iii. Terrorism
- iv. The Dignity of Labour